Full description

The ascent of the Sierra Nevada follows the trail of the same name within Conguillío National Park. We pass through forests of coigüe, ñirre, lenga, raulí, and oak, among which the great araucaria stands out, and then we hike across the volcano's glacier equipped with a harness, rope, ice axe, and crampons.

There are two summit options: the south route, about 20 km in total, and the north route, about 24 km. From the top, you can see Lake Conguillío, Mount Llaima, and many other volcanoes. We set out at 4 a.m. and return around 6 p.m. This is a highly demanding trek, for ages 17 and up, available from December through May, weather permitting.
