Full description

Discover fly fishing in Bariloche with a private outing tailored to your experience level, interests, and seasonal conditions. We'll choose the location offering the best fishing among the Limay, Manso, and Pichi Leufú rivers, or the nearby lakes of Nahuel Huapi National Park.

Half-day trips take place mainly on the Limay River and last approximately 6 hours from pickup to return. Full-day trips last between 10 and 11 hours and include more fishing time and a hearty Argentine lunch by the river.

No prior experience is necessary: our bilingual guides patiently teach beginners and help experienced anglers make the most of every run. Each guide and boat provides private service to one or two anglers.

The listed price is an estimate for a half-day trip based on two anglers. Please contact us for current rates for a single person, a full-day trip, or the Manso River.

What's included

Transportation to and from your lodging in Bariloche; professional bilingual guide; drift boat, raft, or motorboat as appropriate; full fishing gear when necessary; beverages; a midday snack or an Argentine lunch with Malbec on full-day tours; pre-trip advice.

Not included

Fishing permit (USD 40 per person per day; we can arrange this); tips for the guide; lodging.

Meeting point

Pickup and drop-off at the traveler's lodging in downtown San Carlos de Bariloche. The schedule and destination are confirmed based on fishing conditions.
